Cradle Mountain

LOCALITY

Devonport is the arrival point for anyone travelling to Tasmania on the Spirit of Tasmania. It is also a convenient place to base yourself to explore the north-west of the state.

The countryside around Devonport is rich and fertile. Consequently, there are many delicious delights to be discovered. Highlights include the Anvers Chocolate Factory and Ashgrove Farm Cheese, as well as a number of wineries dotted around the region.

Devonport is approximately an hour's drive from the world renowned Cradle Mountain. Other natural wonders around Devonport include the Mole Creek Caves, some of the finest and most visited caves in Tasmania.

Devonport Cliffs

The countryside around Devonport contains many delightful towns. Penguin hosts the largest undercover market in Tasmania on Sundays; Deloraine is a picturesque town on the banks of the Meander River; and Sheffield, the "town of murals", boasts stunning images to admire. Every blank wall in this town has been covered with huge and fascinating murals depicting the early history of the area.
